JOHN T. GROVES

John T. Groves, supervisor of the Town of Esopus, notified the Republican committee of the township Wednesday evening that due to the press of business he would not seek re-election to the Board of Supervisors. Mr. Groves is in the trucking business.

Born in Port Ewen, where he has always resided, Mr. Groves has a notable record as a community worker, giving freely of his time and energy to any cause which might be of benefit to his community.

A veteran of World War I, Mr. Groves is a member of the American Legion, having been a member of Kingston Post, 150, for 27 years.

Active in fireman matters, both in his home town and in the county, he was president of the Ulster County Firemen's Association in 1937, when Port Ewen was host to the county firemen.

An outstanding example of his good business practices was the purchase of the new town building in Port Ewen. A prime mover in the purchase of the Spruance building, it has been renovated into one of the finest town auditoriums. This was accomplished by operating the Town of Esopus on a business basis, with the building free and clear of any mortgage and without any additional taxes to the people of the Town of Esopus.

As chairman of the Port Ewen Water District in 1938, he helped in forming a water district. He also assisted in having a pamphlet printed for the town and in forming the Chamber of Commerce.

Albany, N. Y., June 19 (AP)—The State Public Works Department called today for bids July 2 on 15 highway projects estimated to cost $6,705,500, including nine preliminary work on the state highway.

A major project scheduled for Ulster county calls for reconstruction of 9.82 miles of Route 28 with 24-foot concrete pavement from Cold Brook eastward to Bitternut Creek and from Ashokan eastward to West Hurley. Estimated cost is $1,705,000.

Woodstock House
Burns Wednesday

One Volunteer Fireman Is Burned on Hand; Some
Cash Is Lost

Woodstock, June 19.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the home of Mrs. Emily Slutsky, Ohio Mountain road, Woodstock, late Wednesday afternoon. Few belongings were saved. The Woodstock Fire Department responded immediately after the discovery of the blaze about 4 o'clock and stayed until late last night before extinguishing the fire completely.

Mrs. Slutsky's sister-in-law who had arrived the day before to be her guest had $1,000 in bills in her room, and a $500 bond. About $800 was recovered last night by the firemen. Many of the bills were damaged by the water. The family also saved a few chairs and the piano.

One of the main difficulties in extinguishing the fire was lack of water. The fire company used the water in the pool at the Ives home nearby but this quickly ran dry. It is fed by springs.

Those working at the fire attributed the saving of the surrounding buildings including a cottage and barn to the quick action of the firemen.

France, Great Britain Give
Russia Time for Decision

Paris, June 19 (AP)—France and Great Britain have given Russia until Monday to decide whether she wants to participate in a collective effort to put postwar Europe back on its economic feet with American help—or see continued reconstruction organized without the Soviet Union.

They sent a note to Moscow last night inviting Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to meet with French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin during week of June 23 concerning steps to implement the European recovery plan suggested by U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall.

The note was dispatched after a two-day Bidault-Bevin meeting here at which the two said in a joint statement, they welcomed "with the greatest satisfaction" the ideas expressed by Marshall in a speech at Harvard University June 7.

Membership Agreement Is

Effect in West,
Aide Says

New York, June 19 (AP)—Negotiating committees for three maritime unions and 39 east and gulf coast shippers reached an agreement early today for settlement of the shipping tieup on those coasts on the basis of a five percent wage increase.

The agreement, announced at 1:40 a. m. (E.S.T.) by John W. Gibson, assistant secretary of labor, would benefit 110,000 seamen on the Atlantic and gulf coasts if approved by the unions' memberships and by the shipowners.

On the west coast, Nathan Reisinger, Labor Department troubleshooter, said that "undoubtedly the settlement on the east coast will be a factor to reckon with here, but just what its effect will be I cannot say."

Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union (C.I.O.), said special membership meetings would be called later today for ratification of the agreement. Curran's union had led the move to embargo sailings upon the expiration of old contracts last Sunday midnight.

Present contracts of the National Maritime Union, the American Communications Association and the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, all C.I.O. affiliates, will be extended for one year with a wage re-opening date on December 15, Gibson said.

Truman Prepares Message
On Labor Bill; Veto LikelyMayor, Police Commissioners
Sign Pay Petition for Police

Saccoman Signs;
Mayor's Action Is Reversal of His Attitude

Although he has repeatedly refused raises to the police department, Mayor William F. Edelmuth, Democratic fourth term nominee, on Tuesday signed his name to a petition calling for a referendum vote on a pay increase.

Confronted by committee from the Kingston Patrolmen's Association on several occasions, his refusal to please for a living wage was: "Where will I get the money?"

The mayor as president of the Board of Police Commissioners is not the only one of that body whose signature is attached to a petition. All four members have signed.

Commissioner Stephen D. Hitebrant was first to sign. He put his name on the petition circulated by Lieutenant William T. Roedel, Monday.

Mayor Edelmuth signed Tuesday at his office in the city hall, as did Commissioners William Singer and Willis Locke, for Pershing and William T. Roedel, for the Kingston Patrolmen's Association.

Commissioner John J. Schwalbach added his name to the petition of Sergeant Robert Murphy.

Joseph Saccoman, Democratic candidate for alderman-at-large, and running mate of Mayor Edelmuth in the fall election, is a signer too, having put his name on the petition of Patrolman Joseph Fallon.

Commissioner Schwalbach is the newest member of the board. He was appointed several weeks ago by Mayor Edelmuth after the resignation of E. Frank Flanagan.

Commissioner Flanagan, who quit after the pay dispute became territorial, gave pressing business as his reason.

It is common knowledge that the police felt they lost a friend when Commissioner Flanagan severed his connections with the official family of the mayor, whose views he opposed concerning an increase for patrolmen.

Consensus of department members was that Commissioner Flanagan and Commissioner Hitebrant were always in their "right mind." This impression was gained from expressions by both concerning more pay.

Child Is Hurt in Crash;
Is Taken to Hospital

Barbara Brennan, 6, of 405 Hasbrouck avenue, was reported in fair condition today at the Kingston Hospital where she is undergoing treatment for injuries suffered in an accident at Hasbrouck and Foxhall avenue Wednesday night.

Her injuries were described as lacerations and abrasions and a possible fracture of the jaw. The extent of her injuries will be determined by X-rays today, the hospital reported.

The child, according to the police, was struck shortly before 6:30 p. m. yesterday by an auto operated by Sidney Hupern of 3245 Washington avenue in front of 48 Foxhall avenue.

The accident affected the driver to such an extent, the police reported, that he was unable to continue driving. The girl was taken to the hospital by John Glass of 45 Foxhall avenue, who picked her up and put her in the car.

Veto of Labor Bill Is Sought

Moran Principal
Favors Pay Raise
For City Police

Financing Increase Would Call for Relatively Small Expenditure,
Accountant Says

Expressing sentiment in favor of the police referendum for increased pay, Principal Joseph J. Moran of the Moran School of Business, Fair and Main streets, pointed out that "it would seem to be manifestly unfair to attempt to economize at the expense of a few police officers, responsible for the safety of the lives and property of our citizens."

It is his opinion that the referendum should be endorsed unanimously by the citizens of Kingston, more than 28,000 of whom look to the police for protection 24 hours a day, seven days a week and since local patrolmen are paid less than the officers in Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Middletown, neighboring cities.

Principal Moran's letter is as follows: The Moran School of Business Accounting and Secretarial Training

Corner Fair and Main Streets
Kingston, N. Y.
June 18, 1947

Kingston Patrolmen's Association
Kingston
New York
Gentlemen:

The proposed referendum on the subject of salary increases for the members of the Kingston Police Department should, in my opinion, be endorsed unanimously by the people of Kingston.

The fact that the required petition has been signed by prominent members of both major political parties indicates that the subject will be kept on a strictly non-partisan basis—and rightly so!

The financing of the desired increase would result in a relatively small expenditure of public funds. Here we have a group of faithful public servants, whose members are providing protection for some twenty-eight thousand persons, twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. Each man is required to work forty-eight hours a week. It would seem to be manifestly unfair to attempt to economize at the expense of a few police officers whose duty it is to preserve law and order in this community, and to whom is entrusted, in large measure, responsibility for the safety of the lives and property of our citizens.

There is little room for civic pride in the realization that the pay scale for Kingston police is lower than that paid in the neighboring cities of Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, and Middletown.

Aside from his regular daily schedule, the policeman is required to work extra time on holidays and

Yerry Says Termination
Came When Haver Quit
as Company Counsel

Negotiations between members of Carpenters and Joiners Local 1345 and Pilgrim Furniture Company have been at least temporarily suspended and George E. Yerry, Jr., business agent for the local said picketing of the Teller street plant would in all probability be resumed this afternoon or Friday morning.

Termination of the wage negotiations came, Mr. Yerry said, when N. LeVan Haver, who has been acting as counsel for Pilgrim Furniture Company, withdrew as attorney.

"As far as the union is concerned we are waiting for an answer from the company on the proposals we have submitted. We are ready and willing to negotiate with the company or with their attorney who may be appointed to replace counsel, whom we have been informed has withdrawn," said Mr. Yerry, as he announced a hill in the negotiations which have been in progress for a month in the labor dispute.

We have been officially notified of withdrawal of Mr. Haver as counsel for the company and picketing will probably be taken up at the factory on Teller street by Friday morning," Mr. Yerry stated.

Workers, AFL, CIO
Send Telegram to President

A group of local labor leaders and delegates from various Hudson Valley labor unions held an informal meeting at The Barn last night to take action on the Taft-Hartley Bill now before President Truman awaiting his approval or veto. Representing over 10,000 union workers in this area, both A. F. of L. and C.I.O., the representatives held a series of discussions on the provisions of the present bill, and unanimously opposed the enactment of the bill as a law.

An appointed committee drafted a telegram which they sent to the President voicing the sentiments of all the labor leaders at the meeting. The message read: "This telegram represents the views and feelings of over 10,000 workers, both A. F. of L. and C.I.O., in the Hudson Valley of New York, who are deeply concerned over the Taft-Hartley Bill. Committee instructed to sincerely and strongly urge you to veto this un-American bill. Its enactment into law can only bring industrial strife to people of our country."

The telegram was signed by Jacob J. Schneider, manager of Local 1350, I.L.O.W.U. Free Press, Poughkeepsie, business agent of Local 17, Hod Carriers of America; Tony Braden, business agent of Local 445, Teamsters of America; Henry

Counsellors
Say Veto
Probable

Democrats Opinion Is Given as 103 to 66
in Poll of Leaders in U.S. for Veto

New York Has Fears

Loss of State in 1948 Is Thought Likely Unless Veto Comes

Washington, June 19 (AP)—President Truman worked behind closed doors today on the message he will send Congress tomorrow announcing his decision on the union-curbing labor bill.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross and White House aides gave no indication whether Mr. Truman has decided to sign or veto the Taft-Hartley legislation. Ross declined to be drawn out by reporters' questions as to Mr. Truman's likely action. He did say the message to Congress may be available around noon tomorrow, but added that he wouldn't even "guarantee" the time.

Mr. Truman, who must act on the bill by tomorrow midnight—otherwise it will become law without his signature—has been confronted by sharply conflicting views within his own party as to the step he should take.

While a majority of his advisers "guess" he will veto the measure tomorrow, some of his closest associates insisted they have no definite knowledge of what his action will be.

One of these, a daily confidant of the President, said privately that virtually all government officials concerned with labor matters are of the opinion that Mr. Truman should try to kill the bill.

However, a survey of Democratic party leadership across the country—conducted by the Democratic National Committee—showed a 103 to 66 division in favor of a veto, plus four recommendations that the measure be allowed to become law without signature.

A party official who disclosed results of the survey said national committee members and state chairmen and vice chairmen were asked to submit their "considered judgment" on the issue "without coloration."

The committee made the check on its own authority without instructions from the White House, the official said.

Strongest Sentiment
He noted that the strongest sentiment for a veto was found in replies from the west, New York and Pennsylvania.

One reply from New York, he said, contended that unless there were a veto the Democrats would lose that highly important state in the 1948 election.

The south generally urged that Mr. Truman sign the measure, which imposes new legal curbs on some organized labor activities.

The results of the party survey have been submitted to Presidential Counsel Clark M. Clifford for review to the President.

Clifford has been working with Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman in rounding up the opinions of all cabinet members, congressional leaders and others for a composite recommendation.

This study, together with an analysis of the effects of each provision of the measure, has been laid on Mr. Truman's desk for the final decision.

Some of his aides worked far into last night finishing up loose ends.

Mr. Truman himself planned to complete his scrutiny of the report today and begin drafting the message he will send to Congress at noon tomorrow.

Will Send Message

White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said yesterday that whether or not Mr. Truman vetoes it, he will send a message explaining his action.

The bill would become law automatically in the absence of Presidential action by tomorrow midnight.

On Capitol Hill, meanwhile, Chairman Hartley (R-NJ) proposed that his House Labor Committee investigate an analysis of the bill prepared by the National Labor Relations Board.

"Turning it 'disoriented' outline of the measure's provisions, Hartley said it bears a 'striking resemblance' to a report prepared by C.I.O. General Counsel Lee Pressman.

"I can hardly conceive," he

Dismissal Is Won
New York, June 19 (AP)—Because no culpable negligence had been proved, Arthur Steinhardt, 29, of Miami Beach, Fla., late yesterday won dismissal of charges of vehicular homicide and third de-other. After leaving the Holland tunnel, the truck jumped a curb, struck Edgar Hill, 33, of 54 West 180th street, then swerved back into the street, crushing and fatally injuring Arthur Oppler, 55, of 27 Euclid avenue Yonkers, N. Y.

Strike in Banks, Stores
Paris, June 19 (AP)—Employees of all banks throughout France except the Bank of France went on strike today when last-minute negotiations on their demands for said that under the new agreement the seamen would receive overtime pay for nine holidays annually for work performed at sea or in port.

Separate Agreement

The agreement here came after the N.M.U. had reached a separate agreement with operators of tankers, affecting 22,500 seamen, also for a five percent boost.

Frank J. Taylor, chairman of the negotiating committee for 39 shipping firms and agents on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, said his committee "will recommend to their principals who have contractual relations with the National Maritime Union, the American Communications Association and the National Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, the prompt acceptance of this proposal made by the Department of Labor."

"It is of paramount importance to our national welfare and security that American merchant ships resume their operations as soon as possible."

Curran, whose N.M.U. claims 60,000 men to work the dry cargo and passenger vessels involved in the new agreement, predicted the membership would rally to it. He expressed hope that "these gains would be put into effect for seamen of all unions in the interest of establishing stability in the industry during the coming year."

The settlement with 14 Atlantic and Gulf Tanker Lines also was up for ratification at the N.M.U. membership meeting today. N.M.U. originally had demanded a 20 per cent wage increase, six weeks' paid vacations, a 40-hour week instead of the present 48, a health and welfare fund and an increase in the number of holidays granted. Monthly base wages ranged from $159 for ordinary seamen to $294 for electricians.

The A.C.A. Radio Operators had asked a 15 per cent increase and benefits similar to those the N.M.U. sought, and the engineers asked six per cent. Under the old scales base pay varied according to the size of vessel, running up to $892 for the chief engineer and $535.51 for the chief radio operator of the America, the nation's largest passenger vessel.

The America, scheduled to sail yesterday, was one of the first passenger ships held at her pier by the shipping tieup.

The tieup of cargo ships had led the American Association of Railroads to embargo movement of freight bound for ports and assigned to N.M.U.-manned ships.

The stoppage also aroused concern over the supply of food and other goods to Europe.

Corn Borers Are Threat, Destruction Formula Given

In the course of his investigation and inspection of farms throughout the county, Walter Baran, assistant county agricultural agent, found that corn borer eggs are seriously hampering the growth of sweet corn. However, Mr. Baran explained, it actually is not profitable to combat this detrimental element unless the expected price of corn is two dollars or more per acre hundred.

To protect the plant over the usual egg-laying period, he said, a series of four treatments at five-day intervals is normally required. The materials kill the newly hatched borer before they enter the plant.

Three-fourths of one per cent Rotenone dust or Ryania dust (40 per cent actual) or three per cent D.D.T. dust or spray for 100 gallons of water, with two pounds of 50 per cent D.D.T. vegetable powder or four pounds of ground cube or deoris root (4-5 per cent Rotenone), both used with a wetting agent, comprise the spray formula in checking corn borer.

SECURITY REPORT

The Commission to Study the Organization of Peace, headed by Dr. James T. Shotwell of Woodstock, who assisted the local committee in its bid for location of the United Nations headquarters here, has submitted its report.

These recommendations for United Nations action on security and disarmament transcend in their importance to every human being. Briefly, the Commission is agreed on these points:

The United Nations organization itself, while weaker than could be desired, has grown rapidly in stature. It has furnished a framework which has greatly eased international strains. Without it, there might be no peace now. With it, strengthened to the point where its authority can outweigh that of any single trouble-making member, peace can be secured.

For that strength it needs first of all small permanent police and air-police forces for emergency action. Second, there must be agreements for larger specified contributions of forces to be supplied at the demand of the Security Council. There must also be agreements on military, naval and air bases, and an international regime for Antarctica. Regulation of national arms can come only as the collective strength of the United Nations grows.

The Commission believes, also, that economic reconstruction on a long-range scale must be one of the United Nations' most important contributions to political and other security.

Most important of all is the need for popular support, patience and leadership. Chief of these, they say, is an alert and informed public opinion, world-wide and vigorously insistent on peace. With it, all of these desired goals can be attained. Without it, dissension, chaos and war are the probable future.

WHAT IS EDUCATION?

Modern education took a double beating the other day, from a Columbia University professor and a newspaper columnist. Professor William York Tindall claimed that while more people are learning to read than ever before, fewer now really understand what they read. And Dorothy Thompson, meanwhile, condemned educational routines which disregard the individuality of teacher and pupil. The teacher's role, she said, is that of a business machine that checks proper answers and kills pupils' minds by pressing them all into similar molds conceived by absent pedagogues. Miss Thompson offers the generally accepted solution, namely, increase of teachers' salaries which, it would be hoped, would entice higher-calibre personnel into the teaching profession.

This economic remedy doubtless will cure some of the ills, but it is not the whole answer. It is well to realize that, among teachers, better incomes will not alone make better teachers.

An education that combines understanding with learning will be realized only when people as a whole begin to care tremendously for that kind of training. When a diploma and a degree are not viewed as ends in themselves, but as tools for creative living and thinking, then there will come a demand for real teachers. And teachers will then be found who can lead minds, young and old, toward these desired goals.

The criticisms of the professor and the columnist show that such intellectual discontent already is stirring in the land.

ALIBI NO. TWO

Why did the Germans lose the First World War? Because, say the Germans, of the "stab in the back" given by the civilian population, which weakened when the army was standing firm. Of course that was not true. The home front may have given way, but only after the army was staggering under a series of heavy blows inflicted by the Allies all along the line. The "stab in the back" excuse was merely an alibi for the failure of the Germany army.

Now there are signs of Alibi No. Two for World War II. This time it is Hitler's inter-

JIM FARLEY'S EPISTLE

Most of the documents of Mr. Roosevelt's career have been disposed to give him all the benefits by omission. Thus, they produced a human being who never erred, who never slipped, whose virtues were godlike and who possessed no frailties. Of course, no such human being ever existed.

Jim Farley's relations with Franklin D. Roosevelt were longer than those of any of the current writers of reminiscence, including Elliott Roosevelt in his mature years. Farley had made Roosevelt President before Harold Ickes ever met the gentleman. As for Henry Morgenthau, he did not become politically conscious until Roosevelt took him into the official family.

Jim Farley broke with Franklin D. Roosevelt over the Third Term. The articles in Collier's Magazine are excerpts of a book, and the book is a compilation of memoranda written at the moment or shortly thereafter. Also, as is so well-known Jim Farley possesses a photographic memory. I once saw a shyster challenge Farley's memory with regard to a certain situation and it was short of marvellous how Farley rattled off the details impromptu. He has a gift that way.

There can be little question but that Franklin D. Roosevelt did not like Jim Farley and his wife, Bess. They were not his social equals and Roosevelt went beyond doubt a snob. Harry Hopkins, Tommy Corcoran, Ben Cohen, and others of the bawling, college song crowd were Roosevelt's social equals. But not Al Smith. And, to repeat, not Jim Farley.

And that made trouble, for Farley had made Roosevelt. Roosevelt could not have been nominated in 1932 were it not for Farley's groundwork and managerial genius. That was admitted at the time on all sides. Few men, however, like their makers. They prefer to believe themselves self-makers. The very praise that was showered on Farley must have annoyed Roosevelt to no end, for he could brook no praise for others, nor competition for affection. Farley, in effect, became a nuisance and Roosevelt set out to show how distasteful Farley was to him.

Some of that appeared in the first Collier's article; more will appear in the book. Farley is wholly justified in breaking his long silence to tell his side. He needs to do it to justify his own course; to explain why Mrs. Farley wore a Willie button; to clarify history.

It grows increasingly more difficult to understand current American history because of the distortions in the presentation of Franklin D. Roosevelt as a personality. He made terrifying errors of judgment which are now proved by the course of events. But every man makes errors of judgment, particularly men in high places. When we know the character of the man, we can more correctly appraise his acts. We might even retrace some of the steps and rectify the course of conduct. Nobody yet has psychoanalyzed Tchern and Yalta. Nobody has provided a clue to the paradox of the Atlantic Charter and Yalta.

Jim Farley's book, when it appears, will be a great aid because it will lay open the techniques of confusion employed to achieve and use power. Roosevelt had a way of using his power as a poor man as though they were horses or bulls. Apparently, he had no sense of personal loyalty; only a brilliant capacity to select the most useful, to himself, person for a particular job.

Al Smith, for instance, made Franklin D. Roosevelt Governor of the State of New York, all on his own and against the advice of his associates. John Raskob put up the money necessary to get Roosevelt to run. Roosevelt was not Governor a day before he was himself of Al Smith.

So Farley was not Roosevelt's social equal because Farley never went to Groton or Harvard or such places. Roosevelt also probably found Farley a bore because Jim has a matter-of-fact sort of morality unrelated to Nietzschean superman or Hegelian inevitability. He is a plain sort of fellow with a clear notion of right and wrong, with no subtleties that can be argued through the night. So Roosevelt never asked him to a private dinner. Yet Harry Hopkins lived at the White House.

Of such stuff is history made.

That Body of Yours

TUBERCULOSIS OF SKIN

During World War I, one of our patients in a hospital was affected with lupus vulgaris—tuberculosis of the skin. The various departments of the hospital—medicine, skin, X-ray and light, diet and nutrition, were unable to give more than temporary improvements for short periods. Investigation of this embarrassing disease, which so often affects the face, showed that poor or indifferent results were obtained elsewhere. Meeting this patient recently I found that he still had the disease, but by careful living—diet, rest, outdoor life—it was kept under control.

That a cure for lupus vulgaris may be found by the use of vitamin D2 is reported by Drs. E. Gaumont and J. Grandbois of Quebec, Canada, in the "Canadian Medical Association Journal." These physicians present pictures showing a woman of 33 with a severe case of lupus vulgaris of the face. Illustration No. 1 shows the condition before any treatment was given. No. 2 illustration shows the condition after 10 months of the usual or routine treatment and the condition is much worse. Illustrations 3 and 4 show the appearance of the face greatly improved after treatment by D2 (calciferol). "This treatment known as Chappoy's method, consists in the intake by mouth of 15 milligrams of vitamin D2 in an alcoholic solution. This dose is given three times the first week, twice the following three weeks, and once a week for a period of months. A quart of milk is given daily and 0.5 gm. of calcium 20 days each month. In addition, table salt is reduced and all fat foods are avoided."

The results obtained in this case are really amazing—particularly, since she developed lupus vulgaris at the age of four and thus suffered with this disfigurement for 29 years. Her mother died at the age of 26 of tuberculosis of the lungs.

Now this is the first time the use of vitamin D2 in other skin conditions and in psoriasis has been reported recently. The outstanding fact in the above case is that while other forms of treatment aggravated the condition, the use of vitamin D2 by mouth brought about the remarkable improvement. These physicians may give future cases vitamin D2 into the muscles, veins, or spinal canal.

This overlooks the fact that sometimes when Hitler and the general staff disagreed,

Hitler, unfortunately for the world, was right.

The general staff did not want to occupy the Rhineland in 1934. Hitler told them that the France would not fight. He was right, and his countrymen applauded vigorously.

All Aboard for Utopia

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, June 18—So far in my discussion of the goofy Gurus, I have proved that Henry Wallace was very intimately associated with Prof. Nicholas Roerich and Louis L. Horch. He sent Roerich to Asia in command of an expedition for the Department of Agriculture and he appointed Horch to several important jobs in the Department of Agriculture and Commerce.

The question now is what for Wallace, who once stood within a single heartbeat of the Presidency and now aspires to the job or a third ticket, could have been so silly enough to write such nonsense. I am referring to the mystical, Oriental prattle in the letters which he offered to the Republicans in the 1940 campaign. Three of the best experts on disputed documents have given their unqualified professional opinion that the hand which wrote two veritable Henry Wallace letters is the same that wrote the goofy Guru letters. I've even experts disagree, so let us come at the problem from another direction.

Wallace fell hard for Roerich, and within a year after he got into the cabinet as secretary of agriculture had him traipsing over the Mongolian Desert in pursuit of grass seed. Two distinguished American botanists who were sent along were so badly treated that the expedition wound up in a bid row. Roerich was not even an American citizen but a Russian with a French passport. He got into political situations in Japan and Manchukuo and our own State Department was terribly disturbed because the Department of Agriculture had issued American passports to a foreigner to go traipsing around in the troubled politics of the Orient. It must be remembered that some of Roerich's followers in the circle here in New York, of which Wallace was an intimate, thought he was a sort of deity, a god.

At least they regarded him as a spiritual master and a super-normal intellect. Some of the letters which were written him by his disciples used the capital "I" in the pronoun "I," referring to Roerich as Christians do in referring to God or Jesus Christ. The goofy Guru letters, which turned up in the 1936 campaign and again in the 1940 campaign, are similar in tone to the letters from acknowledged disciples which finally found their way into court records in lawsuits tried here and in an income tax case against Roerich.

Wallace enjoyed the protection of secret forces during all his actions, but they were just the old, familiar Democratic machine political forces and nothing occult. His name had to be kept out of the record and thus out of the papers, otherwise, he might appear before the public as a blithering job.

Wallace projected his influence in the Department of Commerce beyond his own departure by appointing Horch regional director for the states of New York and New Jersey a short time before President Truman finally canned him out of the cabinet in the fall of 1946 for making his pro-Soviet speech. Horch is still in there and he was chosen, after long association with Henry, because Wallace thought him an appropriate person to possess the great powers of the position.

Henry fired his old guru, Roerich, in 1935 while Roerich was still chasing Mongolian grass seed under the guard of a group of Oriental musketeers armed with rifles mounded from the 15th U. S. Infantry in Tientsin. Roerich never came back to the United States and in 1938 the internal revenue laid a bill against him for $48,758 in old taxes plus penalties and interest.

Remember that by this time Wallace and Horch both were sore at him. And bear in mind that it was common practice in the New Deal to sick the internal revenue on individuals who got into trouble with powerful New Dealers.

In the income tax case, Roerich, in absentia, lost by a headline decision. Roerich had given Horch a complete power-of-attorney to conduct his business while he was away. Horch certainly held Roerich in his power and Roerich's lawyers in the tax case charged Horch with "bad faith as a vindictive informer." The board finally held that Horch was not an informer but acknowledged that he did give information against his old master which was his only reason for his power and Roerich's lawyers in the tax case charged Horch with "bad faith as a vindictive informer." Open house was held at the home of Helen and Alf Evers, formerly of New Paltz and now of Woodstock, Sunday. This annual affair is held at visteria time by the Evers who live there with their three children. More than 75 guests drove up the Overlook mountain road for the party and to see the beautiful white visteria. Judging by the main stems and subsequent growth it is believed that the original visteria plantings were made more than 100 years ago. According to Mr. Evers the main part of the house was standing in 1810 and it is likely that it was built many years before that time. Mr. Evers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Iver Evers of Huguenot street. He attended New Paltz schools and after marriage, he and his wife lived in New Paltz for some time. They began their careers of writing children's books in Woodstock. Alf was the writer and Mrs. Evers the illustrator. Their first book was "This Little Pig." The Evers make it a rule to write at least one book a year.

It was the final meet of the year for the finest track team ever turned out at New Paltz High. Highland Falls won the meet with 37 points while New Paltz was second with 35. Striped Beetle Is Hard on Cucumber Melons and Squash

Without doubt the most important insect enemy of cucumbers, melons and squash is the striped cucumber beetle. Walter Baran, assistant county agricultural agent said this morning. Not only does the insect cause direct serious injury to the plants from the feeding of the adults and the larvae, he added, but indirectly it causes even greater loss by aiding in the transmission of two serious plant diseases, wilt and mosaic.

Baran went on to explain that this beetle hibernates under trash and in patches of woodland, often at some distance from the field in which the insect breeds. The beetle emerges from hibernation early in the spring and feeds for some time on the leaves and the flowers of various wild plants, congregating on cucumber plants just as they are coming up. They feed on the leaves and gnaw holes in the stems near the surface of the ground. Thus many plants are killed outright and others are so badly damaged that they make only a stunted growth. The most serious injury is usually accomplished before the plants acquire three or four leaves, but the beetles are persistent and troublesome for a month or so longer in the early summer.

Both dusts and sprays are effective in controlling the beetles, Baran said, but most growers prefer a dust method because the dust residue left on the treated plants has a repellent effect. Whether the applications be dust or spray, they should be repeated once a week or more often in order that the new growth of young plants be protected from the beetles.

A three-fourths of one per cent dust formula is effective, especially so if the entire field is dusted during the course of one day. A hand-bellows duster is most suitable for this purpose. In dusting large acreages, Baran advises the use of a row crop power duster, with about 30 to 40 pounds per acre. Because dust is an effective beetle repellent, some growers apply pure gypsum or hydrated lime heavily to young plants. However, these are likely to stunt some kinds of plants.

It is an established fact, said Baran, that the addition of 10 per cent by weight of calcium arsenate added to the gypsum or hydrated lime makes this treatment more effective. On the other hand, a grower may purchase a so-called cucumber or melon dust that contains the copper and rotenone or the calcium arsenate and copper in the proper proportions thereby controlling the beetles and concurrent diseases.

When using a spray in place of a dust, four pounds of four per cent rotenone powder in 100 gallons of water make an effective spray if the beetles are wet with it. From one and a half to two pounds of insoluble copper may be added to this spray to protect the plants

There is an action pending in Supreme Court brought by the company for a restraining order to prevent picketing of property on Greenkill avenue where a new factory building is being erected for Pilgrim. Under a stipulation entered into the pickets have been withdrawn from the site of the new factory and work has been progressing on the building with the understanding that no overtime work will be done. The stipulation does not affect the picketing of the present factory premises on Teller street which is strikebound.

New Jersey lawmakers said in a statement, "that a bill which has made so distorted an analysis of this law could possibly administer it in an unbiased manner."

Hartley said the analysis, which has not been made public, apparently was prepared for a rather select and exclusive group in and out of Congress.

One government official said privately last week that an analysis of the bill by federal labor experts resulted in the conclusion that the measure would not be able to deal with the threat of a soft coal strike next month.

Reports Are Drafted

Cohasset, Mass., June 19 (AP)—Dr. Edward Scholtz today drafted major reports on the condition of James Michael Curley for submission to federal authorities in a new move designed to stay the jail sentence of the 72-year-old mayor of Boston. Dr. Scholtz, the mayor's physician, said government officials would study the reports to determine whether the jail sentence is able to start a six to 18 months sentence on a mail fraud conviction. The government will be told, the physician said, that Curley's abnormal blood pressure threatens his life and immediate removal from Cohasset Hospital.

'Gross, Rude' Slander

Moscow, June 19 (AP)—The Communist newspaper Pravda today termed the Wesleyan speech of retiring Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson a "gross and rude slander against the Soviet Union." Acheson declared Sunday that Russia was retarding world recovery by steps in conflict with the "very promises" needed for international accord. The article in Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, was the sharpest attack yet on U. S. foreign policy in the Russian press.

Jacob Schneider, manager of Local 259, E.L.G.W.U., told The Freeman this morning that the effects of the Taft-Hartley Bill, if it passes the President, would be disastrous to workers throughout the country. It would bring about the destruction of unions, he said, break down collective bargaining and entirely wipe out the worker's security.

Fred Dusing, representing Local 17, voiced the same sentiments. We are all against the present provisions of the Taft-Hartley Bill, he emphasized, and if it is approved in its present form the outlook of unions is very dismal. The worker will have no comeback and if collective bargaining on various other special occasions. He receives no remuneration for this additional service. He is subject to call twenty-four hours a day. Industrial workers would object to such an arrangement, but the faithful police officer accepts it as a matter of duty.

The element of risk is always present and must be considered. It is as axiomatic that the greater the hazard, the higher the pay. The patrolman does not know from hour to hour what emergency he will be called upon to face, and he is prepared to make whatever personal sacrifice may be necessary.

The salary schedule must be sufficiently attractive to insure a continuous supply of men possessing intelligence and character—men whose integrity can never be challenged. It is not unusual to hear of police officers entering other fields because of the more attractive financial inducements offered. It is of the highest importance that salaries be maintained on a level that will prove an incentive to the present members of the force, and that will attract the better class of candidates to the service.

May I repeat that the non-partisan nature of this issue is so immediately apparent that it should receive the favorable consideration of all Kingstonians. For, regardless of political affiliation, all without exception take a special pride in our police force. We now have the opportunity to take positive action with a view to raising the morale and efficiency of its personnel.

To do so is fine judgment—sound fiscal policy—common sense!

Sincerely yours,
JOSEPH J. MORGAN.

is curtailed the status of the individual laborer will be lowered to the appalling state where it was prior to the establishment of labor unions.

Gift Is Presented

During the course of last evening's meeting, Harry Gerhardt, who had been a member of the Carpenters Local 251, and affiliated with that union as a business agent until his recent retirement, was presented with a pen and pencil set in appreciation of his efforts throughout the county in labor circles, Gerhardt, Schneider, told your reporter, has accomplished an indefinite amount of good by bringing about a better understanding of labor problems and acquainting the public with the labor situation throughout his entire tenure as a union representative.

In accepting the presentation tendered him, Gerhardt pointed out briefly the conditions that existed on the labor front when he worked as a carpenter in the early 1900's. He said that in those days a laborer had to work for approximately $1.65 a day, and then had to put in a 10-hour day and a 6-day week. Showing the improvements brought about by labor unions, he compared this with the present rate of $1.75 per hour, on a basis of an 8-hour day and a 5-day week.

He indicated that the progress of labor has come a long way in the last 40 years. Speaking of the efforts of labor generally throughout the area, Gerhardt warned that labor in the community must unite itself solidly in order to be prepared for whatever the future may bring.

China Renews Bid For American Loan To Save Country

Shanghai, June 19 (AP)—Even growing out the noise of Civil War reverses in the past 24 hours is a new wave of National Government pleas, demands and claims which appear to add up to a renewed bid for an American loan.

The tenor is one of desperation. "Save us now or take the consequences,"

The high policy-making Kuomintang Central Political Council drastically proposed withdrawing nationalist forces from Manchuria. This was reported from a closed door session.

It sounded like a warning to America either to finance Chiang Kai-Shek's China or let Manchuria pass into the zone of Communist influence.

American observers in China admit it puts the United States in a difficult position because they know that once America starts financing Chiang's war it would be pretty hard to ever stop—and it would be expensive.

They call attention to the fact that even with the vast amount of American aid given China since the end of the Japanese war, Chiang, if anything, is worse off today than on V-J Day.

The government party and Nanking spokesmen are claiming ever loudly that Soviet help lay behind both the Mongolian and Manchurian situations, although there still is little proof of direct help.

As far as Manchuria is concerned, Chiang's critics have openly blamed his predicament on his tactical blunders, his overconcentrations of troops and his inability to maintain the morale of his army.

Many military observers view the present Red offensive as the same old pattern of conducting big scale raids to keep Chiang off balance, hold the initiative and capture supplies.

Considering the overall political and economic condition of China, this action obviously is working, and many observers do not think it could be stopped by American loans since the Communist admit they are prepared to fight this way for years.

The average length of life of U. S. residents set a new high record of 66 years in 1945.

California has more motor trucks than any other state with 431,500 registered.

New Stamp Honors Utah Settlers

Sentenced to Die

New York, June 10 (AP)—While the mother of the victim listened, Abe Ringe, 32-year-old ex-convict and former friend of the family, yesterday was sentenced to die in the electric chair for the strangulation of Norma Kotler, 22. "I was glad to hear he will die, but sorry, too, because that will not bring back my daughter," Mrs. Cussie Kotler said later. Ringe, convicted of first-degree murder by a Queens county court jury, showed no emotion and stood stoically with head bowed as Judge Thomas Downs sentenced him to die the week of July 27. Neither his wife nor any of his three children were in court.

Jackson Dinners Raise $230,000 for Democratic Party

Republicans Are in Red
by $78,000 Report
on Funds for '48
Election Shows

Washington, June 19 (AP)—The National Political Committee, getting set for the 1948 Presidential campaign, have reported this financial picture to Congress:

The Democrats in the last three months put $150,000 more into their war chest than they took out. The Republicans spent $78,000 more than they took in.

The Democrats would have gone into the red, too, had it not been for their annual Jackson Day dinners to whomp it up for the party and raise money. The dinners brought in something over $230,000.

Political organizations are required by law to file quarterly statements of income and spending with the House clerk.

The Democrats said they took in $354,714 from March 1 to May 31 and spent $204,503. They said they had $150,205 in the bank on May 31.

They had $29,423 in unpaid bills at the end of May, but also $90,000 out on loan—$50,000 to the New York State Committee, $30,000 to the California Committee and $5,000 each to Kentucky Committee and the Maryland Jefferson Day Dinner Committee.

The biggest debt was listed as $20,063 to the Reynolds Metal Company of Richmond, Va., for "pictures." The item was not further described.

The Republican National Committee did not list its bank balance, debts or loans.

It reported total contributions in the last three months of $99,604 and payments of $177,834.

The United Republican Finance Committee for metropolitan New York was one of the largest contributors to the Republican fund, giving $42,000.

Alpine Mass Conducted
Hardy members of the "Vikings Club" of Mexico City climbed to the crater of the Toluca volcano on a recent Sunday and at the altar on the Laguna del Sol celebrated an "alpine mass," the second of its kind to be held in Mexico. A priest is a member of the club. He dedicated the mass to the Virgin de Guadalupe.

"TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT"

Harry bluffed and Joe took him up on five fronts: A further Communist purge in Bulgaria, a threat in Finland, a move in Hungary, a hint in Austria and an invasion of Western China. One not very sympathetic with the Truman attempt to roar would say: "Little man, what now?"

But the truth is that Harry has our sympathy, and if he had any prospect of success, he would have our support. He didn't create this situation, he inherited it from a man who left America in the most dangerous position on the troubled seas of statesmanship that has ever been known aboard the ship of state. It's the combined result of recklessness and a perverted pleasure in seeing how far the captain could get in rocking the boat without turning it clear over.

So now there isn't very much we can do about the Communist push on Sinkiang in Central Asia. The Russian-aided group will come in there, and the only way to get them out will be to bomb the oasis city to pieces. Chinese would never do that, and if an American air force did it, the name of America would be made a byword all over Asia. It's not worth the effort anyhow. Furthermore, what business have we and what did we ever have in Central Asia—any more than China would have in Uruguay? But Chiang Kai-shek and the Nationalist regime that we have backed against the Communists are going to lose face all over China because Chiang lost his Central Asian oasis capitol.

So it goes! There isn't much chance that we can turn back the tide in Hungary, and the Hungarians are saying: "Why in the world didn't we heed their plea when they begged us to let them alone weeks ago instead of sending protest notes which only egged the Russians on?" They knew that when it came to a showdown, we would do nothing. Now this story is repeating itself in Czechoslovakia. Maybe we have saved Turkey and Persia, two Mohammedan countries that matter only to people interested in oil, anyhow, or to persons who want the United States eventually to garrison Palestine. But an international army is piling up in the Macedonian mountains to do to Greece what the Communists did to Spain before the last World War, and when worst comes to worst, a man there would rather be a live Greek than a dead anti-Communist.

Stalin is following the thesis that the people of the United States will not go into a foreign war within less than half a generation after a previous foreign war has closed. After our first adventure in foreign expeditioning over Europe, it was said by wise cynics that not for twenty years could the United States be got back into war in Europe, no matter what might happen there. It was twenty-one years before we allowed a President to take us into undeclared war, and twenty-three before Congress made it declared. A war-minded administration must wait for the boys who fought to get over their disgust, and the people who paid to get over their disillusionment. Hitler waited, and got us on his neck fairly readily. Stalin is much shrewder. He's not waiting. He is taking advantage of the lowliness of our mind, our finances and our military preparedness.

Still, he wouldn't want a war with us—at least unless he could be quite sure that we would be paralyzed by a general strike perpetrated by his legions within us at the same time that our armies were called to fight without. Mr. Marshall, no longer the potent chief of staff of all the forces, but the pathetic Secretary of State who now must beg Congressional committees for appropriations, says to the Senate Appropriations Committee: "If you demobilize the State Department now, you fold up at the wrong time and the wrong place." The fly in that oil is that the State Department chiefly the agent which has got us into this mess ever since Teheran and Yalta and Potsdam. If that State Department outfit had been demobilized long ago, the nation might be in much less difficulty over Moscow and every other foreign problem today.

It all comes down to the simplest possible equation: The man in the street can understand it, but the politician and statesman can't because he will not look it honestly in the face. Stalin has no intention of getting himself a war with us. Neither has he any intention of ceasing the spread of his empire because we fret and fume and pour money down rat-holes. If we were to serve an ultimatum and mean it, that he must evacuate his troops behind a certain line by a certain date or receive a declaration of war from us, he would evacuate. But he doesn't intend to worry. It's an awfully big "if," and he knows that no American political group or party on the eye of election will propose it.

Therefore, he goes gaily ahead and leaves for us two alternatives: One is to let him have everything he can swallow in Europe and Asia while we get back to our own business in our own hemisphere and watch for the Soviet Empire to crack up from over-extension; the other is to drift into an incident in Greece or Austria or Korea and get an undeclared war on our hands and then watch officialdom take the American people into war through the back door again. These are the unpleasant alternatives. To this columnist the former is the least unpleasant and most promising of eventual good to us and to the world.

Dies at His Home

Bridgeport, Conn., June 19 (AP)—John G. Howland, 90, pioneer retail merchant and founder of the Howland Dry Goods Company, died at his home here Wednesday. Injuries received in a fall at his home a week ago were given as the cause of death.

"Smell Money" Refused

"Smell money" and "access money" demanded by dock workers at Southampton, England, were refused. Working a Norwegian whaler, they complained of blubber smell. In another ship they complained that the confined space hampered their movements. The claims were dismissed as "trivial."

Try cleaning spinach in warm water. Use two pans of water. Lift the spinach from the right-hand pan to the one on the left.

Suit for Custody Entered

Los Angeles, June 19 (AP)—A suit seeking to have Lester Burnett, 46, declared father of two children born to the former Angelina Pizzuto while she still was the wife of his son, Lester Jean Burnett, 28, was entered in Superior Court today. She now is the wife of the older Burnett, whom she married in Reno six months ago, the same day she was divorced from young Burnett, after a 10 year marriage.

Hopes Are Killed
 Rome, June 19 (AP)—Provisional President Enrico De Nicola today dashed the hopes of Italian parliamentary chiefs that he would continue in office for more than the "brief period" he agreed to yesterday. Umberto Terracini, president of the constituent assembly, and 11 other parliamentary leaders pleaded with the 69-year-old De Nicola to reconsider his decision to resign at the end of that period. But at the end of the conference they quoted him as saying, "even if I wished to stay in office I could not."

Maverick Prepares for Opening

Actors E. J. Ballantine and Lee Marvin spent long hours in rehearsal this week for Tuesday's opening play, Roadside. (Freeman Photo)

Ballantine, Marvin Will Play Leads in Maverick Opener

Woodstock, June 19—E. J. Ballantine and Lee Marvin, both Woodstockers, will be seen in the opening play, "Roadside," at the Maverick Theatre, Tuesday evening at 8:40.

Mr. Ballantine, often referred to as Woodstock's most famous native thespian, was a prominent member of the first company ever to play in the Maverick Theatre. Since that time in 1923, Mr. Ballantine was one of the founding members of the original Provincetown Players. His appearance in William Saroyan's hit, "The Beautiful People," won him an award for the best supporting role of the year. He has also played in both the stage and moving picture versions of John Steinbeck's "The Moon is Down." He returned recently to Woodstock from Hollywood, where he finished work in the production of "Magic Town" starring James Stewart and Jane Wyman.

When the Maverick Players first suggested to Mr. Ballantine that he appear in their opening play, he was very willing to work with this latest group of young talent whose goals he had once shared with Miss Hynes, Mr. Duggan and Mr. Robinson when they opened the theatre in 1923.

Lee Marvin, a young actor, was discovered by fortunate accident after a long search by the Maverick Players for the brawling, stormy role of Texas, tale-spinner and he-mat extraordinary. He will play opposite the tempestuous, thin-haired Priscilla Amidon, who was last seen in the title role of Hedda Gabler at Rochester.

The Maverick Players are opening under the direction of Paul Morrison, who worked with the American Repertory Theatre last year and who serves on the staff of Bard College and at the Neighborhood Playhouse in New York. The players have been organized as a professional company for the purpose of giving fresh and new talent a chance to work at perfecting their craft.

Jean Pearson, acting manager of this young group remarked "their vital approach to summer theatre distinguishes the group at the Maverick from other professional stock companies... It is the purpose of the Maverick Players to present sincere and interesting performances of a higher theatrical calibre for summer playgoers."

In Roadside, Lynn Riggs, the noted American dramatist of Pulitzer Prize fame, has written a warm folk-comedy of the Southwest. The play portrays the longing for personal freedom in an earthy people. These characters are typical of the humorous, space-loving people in Oklahoma at the turn of the century.

Other members of the cast include Jim Doonan, Fred Sadoff, John Howard, Ken Paine and others.

Bill Howell will be stage manager for the season. He has appeared on Broadway in many hits, among them Irving Berlin's "This is the Army," with Gertrude Lawrence in "Lady in the Dark," and in Orson Welles' production of "Around the World."

An arrangement has been made for taxis to leave the Woodstock Colonial Pharmacy each evening in plenty of time for the 8:40 curtain at the theatre.

Loans and Gifts Provide Equipment For Guild Weavers

Woodstock, June 19—The Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen have received as loans and gifts several looms and equipment from many persons interested in the weaving which will be done at the guild this summer under the direction of Floyd LaVigne.

Felix Plyant, editor of Design Magazine, who has a summer home in Woodstock, loaned a 30-inch floor loom and weaving books. Captain William Moncre, Shady, has given an Inkle loom and weaving tools. Mrs. Clara Hubbell, a guild consignor, has given weaving books, tools, silk and wool yarns. A 20-inch table loom, an Inkle loom, yarns and weaving tools have been given by Mrs. Mollie Higgins Smith. A rug loom and Swedish type floor loom as loaned by Mrs. Esther Shuler of Zena. Mrs. Karen Whiteley has loaned a 30-inch floor loom. Marjorie Henry has given weaving materials and books.

Mrs. Blanche Rosett, president of the guild, has loaned a table loom. Mrs. Rosett has long been interested in the educational work of the guild and her generous contributions have made the continuation of this department possible.

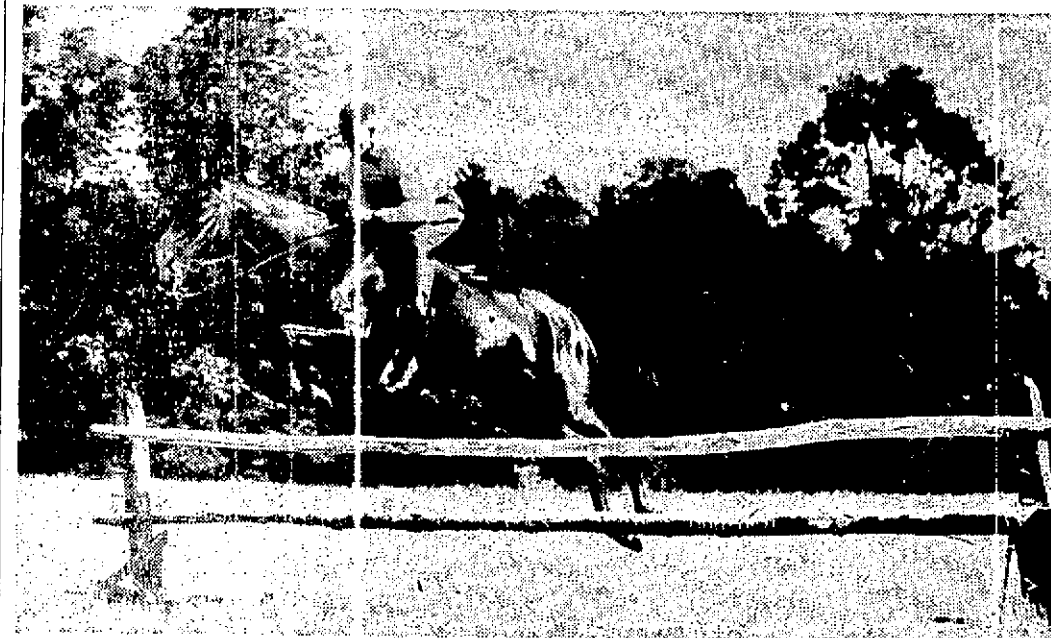

Though Floyd LaVigne has been in Woodstock but a few days, he is undoubtedly one of its busiest residents. In addition to supervising the work of setting up looms at the guild preparatory to starting his classes next week, he has also set up two looms in his living quarters on Chestnut Hill road where he designs and weaves original pieces when not occupied at the guild.

Began Creative Work
For many years before entering the armed forces where he served for two years, Mr. LaVigne was occupied in the business world. He has long been interested in the crafts.

Following his discharge from the army, however, his aptitude test revealed what he had known for some time that he was best fitted for creative work and was one of the first veterans to enter the University of Michigan through a recommendation of the Department of Vocational Guidance.

His work has been outstanding both as a student and later as an instructor at Cranbrook Academy, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan. Recently during a visit to Michigan Doris Lee and Arnold Blanch were convinced that his particular talents could be best utilized in Woodstock and immediately recommended him to the guild for the position of instructor in weaving.

Will Teach Fundamentals

The courses which Mr. LaVigne will give this summer will enable the student to get the basic fundamental techniques of setting up a loom, to work on experimental samples so as to get the feel of materials, such as rayons, silks, glass and all natural fibres and ropes besides novelty yarns of all sorts. In the beginning he plans to use commercial dyes for color experiments. The students will be encouraged to create their own designs and colors. Contrary to the old traditional idea of using wools, cottons, silks, etc. separately, he would like the students to experiment with combinations of materials. They will also be taught to test the materials by washing and pressing.

Another phase of the experimental operation will include work on pile, rope and rag rugs, as well as sitting and dress materials, upholstery and draper materials.

Mr. LaVigne will be at the Guild Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons but registered students will have the use of the looms at any time during their enrollment. This will give them an opportunity to create and develop materials or rugs for their own use.

It is Mr. LaVigne's hope that some of his pupils will become so proficient they will be able to assist him in commercial production later this year.

Horse Show Is To Be Held Sunday

Woodstock, June 19—After one postponement because of rain the Woodstock Riding Club plans to hold its first Horse Show at the Lake Hill Arena Sunday afternoon at one o'clock. Fourteen competitive classes will be judged and a number of exhibitions will be given. In spite of the fact that this type of horse show is not designed to take the place of a wild-west show, there are many features which usually prove to be of interest to the public. It is expected that about 35 horses will be shown Sunday.

Inspiration may be gained by would be riders when they see people who have but little experience, put their mounts through the maneuvers designed by the judges. Even more encouraging will be the activities of those who have entered the jumping event. Every one of these is a novice and none of them have had more than a few months' experience. By dint of hard work and application, a few have acquired considerable ability.

The lighter side has not been neglected in planning the Horse Show. A comic parade is expected to demonstrate that "all

Around the Village

Woodstock, June 19—Miss Nellie Robinson was the honor guest at a party this afternoon given by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Seaton at their home. Children's Day was observed at the Lutheran Church, Woodstock, Sunday. A baptismal font was dedicated during the service, which was followed by the christening of Bette Ann Haver, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Haver of Mt. Tremper. The children's party consisted of an exercise by Keitha Thompson. Continued on Page Sixteen

Snakes Take Over Town
The town clerk of Simonstown, South Africa, has appealed to professional snake catchers for advice, being snowed under by complaints about snakes which have invaded the town, mostly puff-adders and skaapstekers. The latest complaint was from a storekeeper who found a two-foot cobra in his shop.

Written for NEA Service

After attending a War Orphans Scholarship meeting in Washington recently, I dropped in at the Cheeks Bridge Studio in that city. William Cheeks died suddenly some time ago, and Mrs. Cheeks decided to carry on. The club is doing very well.

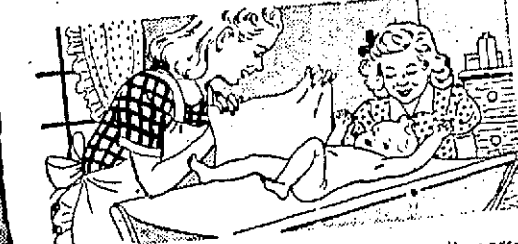

"One of the hands that I kibitzed brought out some interesting points. First, the old mistake of failing to count tricks was made again; second, while declarer usually attacks the longest suit at no trump, there are times when it pays to go after a short suit.

East won the opening heart lead with the king and returned the deuce of spades. Declarer's ten forced West's jack, and the trick was won in dummy with the king. Now declarer led a small club to the ace, then led a club back to dummy and took the finesse. East won with the queen of clubs and led back a spade, which South won. Now, hoping for an even break in clubs, he cashed the king, and the contract was defeated.

When declarer won the second trick in dummy with the king of spades, he should have led a heart immediately. If he had stopped to count, he would have seen two spade tricks, a heart, four diamonds and two clubs—nine tricks in all.

Oppenborn, who issued the warrants, to set a hearing for Monday for Christ Russell, 59-year-old Greek restaurant operator, Russell was charged with the clubbing to death of his six-year-old son, Johnnie Christ, and 11-year-old daughter, Peggy, while they slept early yesterday and later shooting Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Wolfe, who were attempting to force juvenile authorities to take over Russell's children from the grounds that he often cursed and abused his boy and girl.

Judge Can't Forbid Youth 17 From Seeing Widow 24

New York, June 19 (AP)—A court cannot rule on love's disregard for disparity of age, says Magistrate Henry A. Soffer, thereby sending from his bench, arm in arm, a comely 24-year-old war widow and a 17-year-old youth who said "I'm very fond of her."
Peter Lembo, father of the youth, told the court yesterday he wanted his son, Anthony, to stop seeing pretty Mrs. Beatrice Ghilotti, mother of a five-year-old girl. "I can't do anything about two people in love," said the magistrate, "no matter what their ages."
The father complained that Anthony had been coming home at three and four o'clock in the morning from seeing Beatrice.
The magistrate suggested that Anthony try to get home by midnight.
As they left the court room Anthony moved toward Beatrice and his father made a quick interceptive play. A bailiff led the father back to the bench.
"You could be held in contempt of court for beginning a disturbance in here," the magistrate admonished him.
Anthony and Beatrice walked out together.

Rathbun Warns Against Drastic Action on Prices

Syracuse, N. Y., June 19 (AP)—Henry H. Rathbun, president of the Dairywomen's League Cooperative Association, warned members today against "drastic action" because of recent cuts in prices paid to milk producers.

"Such moves would in the long run do more harm than good," he said in his report to the group's 28th annual meeting. "They would provide no permanent answer to our problem."

The league claims 27,000 milk producer members.

Rathbun observed that the price cuts were "hard to take" and said "it is easy to get angry and excited and demand drastic action."

Reviewing the league's role during the past year in opposing lower milk prices, the President noted that "we did not fail completely."

"Since last July," he said, "these actions in which the Dairywomen's League took the lead or played an important part, have gained for dairymen in the milkshed over $28,000,000 in prices they would otherwise not have gotten—and this is a conservative figure."

Rathbun described the Federal Administration's program to cut prices generally as "inconsistent even within itself."

"The government is forcing higher costs upon us" and at the same time "forcing us to accept price cuts," he said.

"These price declines," he added, "have been hard to take with feed up 20 per cent over last year, our farm labor nine per cent higher; building materials seven to 34 per cent higher; and machinery, taxes and living costs also at high levels. It also is hard to accept these price declines, knowing that they come through a policy of appeasing labor which continues to get wage increases." Farmers as a group have not criticized labor's gains, Rathbun said, "but we on the other hand do not want the public to try to take advantage of farmers through forcing cheap food."

France, Britain

tension of the Truman doctrine, which it described as an attempt to "exert political pressure with the aid of dollars—a program of interference in the affairs of other states."

What Marshall said, in brief, was this:
"It is already evident that, before the United States Government can proceed much further in its efforts to alleviate the situation and help start the European world on its way to recovery there must be some agreement among the countries of Europe as to the requirements of the situation and the part these countries themselves will take in order to give proper effect to whatever action might be undertaken by this government."

"It would be neither fitting nor efficacious for this government to undertake to draw up unilaterally a program designed to place Europe on its feet economically. This is the business of the Europeans. The initiative, I think, must come from Europe. The role of this country should consist of friendly aid in the drafting of a European program and of later support of such program so far as may be practical for us to do so. The program should be a joint one, agreed to by number, if not all, European nations."

The joint British-French statement last night said the two foreign ministers agreed that American aid was necessary, but added: "It will only bear fruit to the extent that the countries of Europe make maximum effort to develop once more the resources which, in the main, they produced for themselves before the war and which they have to import today, along with indispensable industrial equipment, largely from the American continent."

A copy of the message to Moscow also was transmitted to U.S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery for transmittal to Washington.

being as not closing the door on the other two but simply leaving open the question of how the proposed bi-partisan Advisory Council might be organized and what tasks might be assigned to it.

Clayton, who is scheduled to leave here next week for the International Trade Conference at Geneva, will visit London and eventually some other European capitals to review trade problems with foreign government officials. Asked at his news conference whether he will give those officials additional information on what Marshall wants in the way of a European economic program, Clayton said he expects to do more listening than talking. He reiterated that the initiative and form of the program will have to come from Europeans themselves.

May Hav. Hit Markets
Washington, June 19 (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board bulletin said today high costs may have undermined the markets for construction and real estate. But the publication said "many people now priced out of the market" would come in at lower prices. Thus preventing a crash as serious as the kind which occurred two decades ago.

New School System To Help Backward Pupils to Be Used

Grouping Will Take Place Within Classroom;
Ability to Decide Assignments

The much discussed "grouping plan" which was placed into effect two years ago in the city grade schools in an effort to aid "slow groups" of students and which was dropped as a city-wide project last fall when the matter of grouping was left to the individual school faculty, will enter the second step which was proposed under the original grouping plan when schools open next fall.

While the proposal for grouping in separate rooms was abandoned by most of the faculties last fall, all will abandon that system with the opening of school next fall and the second step of the plan as advanced by Mrs. Dingee, grade supervisor, will be placed in effect, it recently was made known.

This new step will be the introduction of homogeneous grouping within a room. This means that pupils in a room will be given work according to their ability with text books, particularly reading, adapted to their reading level. This system will be designed to give the slower pupil work which will tend to bring him up to the average level and will also include work for the so-called faster group which will be within their level and continue to advance them in the manner in which they can absorb the work.

Recently Principal A. J. Boyd of No. 5 School sent out to parents of pupils the following letter which explains the step to be taken next fall. Practically the same plan as outlined in Principal Boyd's letter will become effective in all other grade schools. The letter to parents is self-explanatory:

Department of Education
School No. 5
Kingston, New York
June 16, 1947

Parents of No. 5 Pupils:

We approach the end of another school year and already our plans are being formulated for another school year beginning in September.

The plan we organized last year to meet the individual needs of children was part of another pattern projected for the future. It was the original idea to use the step we have just completed as an introduction to homogeneous grouping within the room. We find ourselves now ready to progress to this next step—that is—not grouping in separate classrooms but grouping within the room.

The faculty of the school voted today to progress to the next step without further delay. Under this advance step, the teacher will still meet the needs of the individual child by grouping within the room. However, she will have pupils of all abilities in her class.

To illustrate, a fifth grade teacher will have a class of unselected pupils varying in ability from bright to dull. If Johnny who is in her class is capable of doing only third grade in reading, she will take him from that step forward as far as she can bring him. The same will hold true in other basic subjects.

No one can criticize this plan as it progresses into this next step, that of grouping within the room. That was the original plan of Mrs. Dingee, the grade supervisor. It is the desire of every parent to have the school meet the child's individual needs and teachers today are alerted as never before to the individuality of the child and desire to meet the challenge.

It was the wish of some parents at the fall meeting at the school that they be informed as to our future progress. This letter is intended to do that very thing. However, if anyone has any further questions, I shall be happy to answer them.

Sincerely yours,
A. J. BOYD,
Principal No. 5.

U. S. Weaker Than Russia
Miami, Fla., June 19 (AP)—Lt. Gen. J. Lawton Collins said today Russia's military equipment, those of the U. S. Army 20 to 1. In addition, he declared, the Russians have "over 10,000" airplanes and "we cannot man 4,000 aircraft today." Collins said that in case of trouble in Europe the U. S. forces there "are so small that they could easily be overrun." He estimated that Russia is "capable of putting 200 divisions in the field, have them in the field right now," compared with ten divisions in the whole U. S. Army. He said "Russia's satellites in Europe" could provide another 100 divisions. "I simply cite these as examples of the fact that we are terribly weak today," the War Department information chief said in a speech prepared for a convention of the Reserve Officers Association.

Gibson, Chicago attorney. The commission has endorsed universal training as essential to national security.

Flood Engulfs Village

Oakville, Ia., June 19 (AP)—Residents of this almost-deserted southeast Iowa village watched from a distance today as the swirling flood waters of the Iowa river engulfed the town. The river, which had created havoc for miles upstream flooding thousands of acres of farm land, was at a standstill late last night and Mayor O. D. Johnson said "I don't believe it will get any higher." The community of 440 was deserted except for a few families and those on flood duty, Johnson said. All roads leading into the village were impassable as the flood waters reached the city limits.

Washington, June 19 (AP)—Senator Bridges called upon three cabinet officers today to outline this country's official policy toward what the New Hampshire Republican termed Russia's "legalized looting of Germany with printing press money." Bridges is chairman of a three-committee inquiry into the army's multi-million dollar invasion currency "overdraft." It resulted from the redemption of millions of German marks printed by Soviet occupation authorities from plates supplied by the American government.

LET'S EAT!

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Cherries, fresh or canned, have a "summary" brightness that adds greatly to meals.

Cherry Coolers will quench that hot day thirst. Use fresh, canned or bottled cherry juice. To 2 cups cherry juice add about 1/2 cup lemon juice and sugar to taste. Or 2 cups grape juice and 2 cups orange juice; or a cup of unsweetened pineapple juice.

How about a preview now of a 4th of July bright red and delicious lattice cherry pie?

Lattice Cherry Pie
(Serves 6-8)

Pastry: 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2/3 cup shortening, 5 to 6 tablespoons ice water.

Sift flour once before measuring. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Remove 1/3 cup of this mixture to a bowl. Cut shortening into remaining flour mixture with a pastry blender or two knives until the size of peas. Mix water with the 1/3 cup flour mixture in the bowl to make a paste. Blend the paste with the flour and shortening mixture with as little mixing as possible. Roll out 2/3 of the dough and line a heavy-resistant glass pie plate, fluting the edges.

Filling: 4 cups canned red cherries, drained (2 No. 2 cans), or cooked fresh cherries, drained, 1/2 cup juice, 4 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon almond extract, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 tablespoon butter or fortified margarine.

Mix cherries, juice, cornstarch, sugar, salt, seasonings and dots of butter. Pour into lined pie plate. Roll out remainder of dough and put into strips. Make a lattice work across the top of the pie. Bake in a hot oven (425 deg. F.) for 10 minutes; continue baking 40 to 45 minutes at 350 deg. F. Cool and serve.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Stewed rhubarb and strawberries, ready-to-eat cereal, wholewheat toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Fresh corn cakes, butter or fortified margarine, crisp bacon, syrup, grapefruit, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato and grapefruit juice or chicken - tomato bouillon, broiled halibut steaks, butter and chopped parsley, lemon sections, boiled new potatoes, green beans, soft rolls, butter or fortified margarine, radishes, scalions, raw carrot sticks, lattice cherry pie, coffee, milk.

Polishable Plaster

A hundred pounds of slaked shell lime, 16 egg whites and yolks, a gallon of buttermilk, a pound of butter, 1 1/2 pounds of sugar, and 50 pounds of water are mixed by plasters of Chinua, India, to make a plaster that will take a polish, is like marble, and stands washing.

Strike May Come For 150,000 July 1 On Wage Demands

New York, June 19 (AP)—By a vote of 100 to 3, the Policy Committee of the C.I.O. Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers has voted to call a strike of 150,000 workers in 51 shipyards July 1 if "bottom dollar" wage demands are not met. A spokesman for the committee announcing the vote last night, said that most present contracts expire June 23 and that strike notices have been sent to 31 major shipyards in conformity with the Smith-Connally Act. He said present contracts would not be extended beyond June 30, date of expiration of the Smith-Connally Act.

Original wage demands, which included a 25 cents an hour increase and an 11.6 cents an hour differential for men engaged in repair work, have been "scolded down," the spokesman said. He did not give the new demands or the present wage scales.

A statement from the union quoted John Green, of Camden, N. J., international president, as saying that west coast employers had given raises up to 13 cents an hour to the A.F.L. Metal Trades Council but had made no effort to improve east coast contracts.

Bethlehem Steel Corp., with shipyards in New York, Boston and Baltimore, employs 40 per cent of the workers in the industrial, the union spokesman said. In addition to the increased pay and differential, the union sought extended vacations, paid holidays, severance pay and other benefits.

Swarthout Stars in Relief as Morgans-Jones Battle to 4-4 Tie

Swarthout Puts Out Fire In Sixth; Game Tonight

Bill Windburn's quest for his 12th straight City League victory was nullified by 1—a determined Morgan club, and 2—darkness which halted play after the seventh inning of last night's thriller at the Athletic Field. The game ended in a 4-4 tie and will be played later in the season.

Tonight's Contest
Tonight's City League action will pit the Boulevard Gulf nine against Frank's Sport Shop at the Smith avenue diamond. Game time is slated for 8:15 o'clock.

Windburn, the hottest pitcher City League vets have seen in many a day, escaped his first loss in four starts for the Jones Dairy ball club. Bill was nipped for 12 base knocks, three by George Brinkman. Three Morgan chuckers, Bill Thomas, Howie Brooks and Bud Swarthout, allowed eight to the daymen.

A three-run lunge in the bottom half of the sixth inning, helped along greatly by an error, gave the daymen a chance to tie Morgans before a good crowd of interested spectators at the Athletic Field.

Stars in Relief
Lefty "Bud" Swarthout, called upon to relieve Howie Brooks in the sixth, was the hero for Morgans. Bill Thomas, veteran right-hander, started for Morgans and pitched superb ball up until the sixth when he had to retire due to a sore flipper. Brooks came on and was promptly kayced on hits by Tom Maines and John Boyardi. Swarthout took over from there and stopped the rally.

Morgans picked up two runs in the fourth when Tom Heneberry faced out a double and took third on George Brinkman's first of three singles. After Ball was retired, "Rocky" Maines added a single to left scoring Heneberry. Thomas' hoist drove in Brinkman.

Jones made it 2-1 in the bottom half of the fourth. Maines singled and advanced to second on Bernard's infielder bouncer. Elmer Hopper swatted in Maines with a single.

Morgans made it 3-1 in the fifth on a walk to Swarthout, a balk by Windburn and Heneberry's single. Another fully came across in the sixth after Windburn retired the first two batters. Sonny Barnes stroked a double and he raced home on Bill Tierney's singleton.

With Thomas still ahead with a three run cushion, Charlie Beck greeted him with a single in the sixth. After Celuch walked, Thomas clutched his right arm and was forced to retire from the hill. Brooks came on and was promptly kayced by Maines who lined a double scoring Beck. John Bernard slammed a single to center scoring Celuch. When Heneberry uncorked a wild pop from center, Maines romped home with the tying run. Swarthout then came in and relieved Jones without further damage.

Vogt Saves Day
After Morgans were retired in order in the seventh, Windburn opened for Jones with a single. He went to second on a bunt. Swarthout whiffed Beck but Andy Celuch put the wood on the ball and blasted a screaming drive down along first. Al Vogt made a leaping catch on the drive for the final out.

Boxing Card Shifted To July 10th Date

There will be no boxing bouts at the municipal auditorium, Thursday, June 26, Dr. Saul Goldfarb of B'nai B'rith said today.

"We can't get Tony Barone to box Eddie Morton until July 10th," the organization's chairman of the sport told a reporter, "and rather than substitute another main bout it was decided to cancel next week's show."

It is Chairman Goldfarb's contention that, boxing fans want what they are promised. "As long as I know as early as this that we can't have the match, I'd rather call the whole thing off," he said. Indications are that the July 10th duel between the two popular boxers will jam the auditorium.

Subways Register 6 to 4 Win Over Franks; Take Lead

Overcoming a two run deficit with a third inning rally of four runs, the Subway Grill No. 1 softball team took over undisputed possession of first place in the City League standings last night by scoring a 6 to 4 victory over Frank's Sport Shop at Block Park.

Last night's triumph gave the Subways an 8-1 record for the season while Franks dropped to a 7-2 mark.

Meeting Is Planned
An important meeting has been called by Jason Goumas, president, for next Tuesday night at the N. Y. Club. It is expected that all members and representatives of any interested team wishing to join the circuit.

Big Ben Toffel went the route for the Subway Grill club last night and was nipped for seven runs, one more than his opponent. Al Hunt was a victim of a bad break in the fourth, however, when a drive caromed off his wrist. Hunt remained on the hill despite the injury.

Jack Thomas, who smashed the drive back at Hunt was himself a victim in the first inning when he collided with his right fielder. Thomas was kayced for a short time but resumed play.

In the other loop games last night the Village Rest hammered out an 8 to 1 victory over Hercules and Fulders blasted B'nai B'rith by 14 to 9.

The standings:
Subway No. 1 8 1 .889
Frank's Sport Shop 7 2 .778

Dodgers Win, 12-6; Hold Six Game Margin in Loop

Doser Leads Field In P.G.A. Trials With 5 Under Par

Detroit, June 19 (AP)—Clarence Dosier, stocky little Hartside, N. Y., par buster who has been a professional golfer more than half his 38 years, led a star-spangled field into the final 18-hole qualifying round of the national P.G.A. championship today.

With a ringing first-round 34-33-67, five under par, he headed the parade of 138 pros. Claude Horton and Jimmy Demaret were one stroke back.

Doser, who failed to qualify in the 1946 P.G.A. scramble at Portland, Ore., but who was a semi-finalist at Dayton, Ohio, in 1945, slapped home six birdies, three of them on putts of two feet or less, to lead for the Alex Smith Memorial trophy which goes to the medalist here.

There were 21 scores which bettered par—and 19 more which equaled it.

Demaret, top money winner of the 1947 tournament trail, took advantage of his familiarity with the long 6,922-yard Plum Hollow Golf Club layout where he once was home pro by registering six 3's and a deuce for a 36-32-64.

Harmon, an ex-detroit professional but now of Mamaroneck, N. Y., canned six birdies in his 33-35-65, four strokes under par of 36-36-72.

With sixty-two of the first round scores no worse than 74, the greenside contingent predicted it would take a 36-hole count of 148 or better to reach match play starting Friday.

The championship bracket consists of the 63 low qualifiers and Defending Champion Ben Hogan, who is in automatically.

Oliver Had 17
The nearest thing to a collapse was the 39-38-77 of Ed (Porky) Oliver of Wilmington, Del.

Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa, star engaged in a successful American tour, was among four tied at 70, two under par, and admitted that he played quite well. Locke, who has won four of the seven American tournaments in which he has participated, has averaged slightly under 70 for each of his 34 competitive rounds in this country.

Sam Snead, British open champion who lost the U.S. open to Lew Worsham last week in a playoff, shared the 71 bracket with ten others. Worsham shot a 74.

After Hogan's 63 companions in the match play are determined by tonight, two 18-hole rounds of match play are scheduled tomorrow with 36 holes in each of the four remaining rounds winding up in the finals next Tuesday.

Herman Earron, White Plains, had 37-35-72 and Fred Annon, Old Greenwich, Conn., scored 37-35-72.

Doser Leads Field In P.G.A. Trials With 5 Under Par

The power-hitting of the Kingston Dodgers which characterized their 10 to 2 romp over the Peekskill Highlanders here Tuesday night before 3,864 fans, continued in high gear at Nyack Wednesday night as Manager George "Sugar" Scherger's North Atlantic League club hammered out a 12 to 6 triumph.

Tom Seddon went all the way for the Dodgers last night and allowed but six hits. Both hurlers recorded 10 strike-outs.

Nyack's lone hope for a victory came in the third when it scored three runs to take a 4-3 lead. Kingston rammed back strong with two in the fourth, one in the fifth and a cluster of four in the sixth to roll up a 12-4 lead. Nyack then counted one in the sixth and one more in the ninth to wind up the scoring.

Knobby Rosa led the Dodgers with three hits in five trips, one going for a long homer. Williams also poked out a round-tripper for the Dodgers. Kowalski and Kitsoz tumbled out two hits apiece.

Last night's victory over Nyack kept Kingston six lengths ahead of the second-place Carbondale club which split a double-header with Nazareth. Peekskill, third place team, also divided a twin-bill with Bloomingdale Wednesday night.

Peekskill trails the Dodgers by six and one half games. The Highlanders are in the cellar.

After losing the opener by 6-5 to Nazareth, Carbondale came back strong in the nightcap to earn an even break with a 7 to 4 victory. Johnny Miller's home run provided Nazareth with the winning margin in the opener. Carbondale rallied to win the finale with three runs in the seventh.

Peekskill, 1946 champions, looked good as gold in its first battle with Bloomingdale as Bellucci flipped a four-hitter. Peekskill won by 8-2. Visions of a clean sweep were nullified in the nightcap, however, when Dick Carson's three-run ninth inning homer gave Bloomingdale an 8 to 7 verdict.

In another free-hitting contest

Sams Take Lead In Mixed League; Moore Pounds 574

Sam's Restaurant took over undisputed possession of first place in the Mixed Summer League Wednesday night by winning three straight from Sang's as Evelyn Moore rocked a resounding 231 single and 574 triple for the winners. Ev's other scores were 153 and 190.

The Francis club won a pair from Habers and after the smoke died down, both clubs found themselves tied for second with Howards with a record of 10 wins and eight defeats. Jake Francis was the big gun for the winners and he walloped out a 232 single and 551 series.

The Cardinals, formerly the Ferraros, finally found themselves and tripped Schryvers in three straight. In the other match Chez Emile won two from Howards.

Parced by Ev Moore's 231-574, other notable marks in last night's matches included Bud Evans with 201-573, Rose Schatzel 196-562, Jake Francis 232-551, Dick Howard 200-544, Johnny Ferraro 192-539, Tony LaRocca 192-535, Evelyn Francis 193-519 and Irwin Thomas 201-504.

Railroads Are Told To Install Safety Devices on Tracks

Washington, June 19 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has ordered the nation's railroads to equip 45,000 miles of track with safety devices which would cost millions of dollars.

The order came from three I.C.C. members sitting as "Division Three," a commission device for dividing up its work. The division members handed it down late yesterday after a long investigation into the relation of speeds and traffic volumes to accidents.

The order requires railroads to install an automatic block signal system along all tracks where freight trains are scheduled at 50 miles an hour or faster and passenger trains at 60 miles or faster.

They also must install an automatic train stop or control system or an automatic continuously controlled cab signal system wherever trains of any kind are scheduled at 80 miles an hour or more.

The length of time for compliance varies with the amount of track affected, but the latest date is December 31, 1952. Exceptions will be granted, the commission said, only when it can be shown that traffic is so sparse as not to require the additional protection.

The order is effective immediately, but the railroads can appeal to the full I.C.C. commission.

J. Carter Fort, vice president and general counsel of the Association of American Railroads, said the A.A.R. has the order "under consideration." He declined further comment for the time being.

The voice of the tortoise is not well developed; the females usually are able only to hiss.

Increases Granted By Town Board to Employees in Olive

West Shokan, June 19—At a special meeting of the town board of the town of Olive held Monday evening, called by Supervisor Clarence Bell, the week-old impromptu town truck driver strike was amicably dispensed with by granting of a general pay increase. Truck drivers and machine operators who had been paid 80 cents an hour will now receive 90 cents and $1 an hour respectively. Laborers were raised from 65 cents to 75 cents. Trucks which received a flat rate of $1.70 an hour will now be paid for at a graduated scale of $1.75 per hour while being used for road tarring and similar light work and $2.15 per hour while working under the shovel. Francis Whipple, the shovel operator and general repairman will now receive a flat $1.05 per hour.

Township News

West Shokan, June 19—Steel work now being available, work was recently resumed on the new Bushkill bridge. County trucks are hauling material for the concrete abutments, the paving of which began Monday. A dozen men are employed with Conrad Christensen as foreman in charge. Another note of civic improvement is that the Board of Supervisors have authorized the improvement of the Watson Hollow road from Route 28-a intersection to the Denning town line. Supervisor Claude Bell has stated that the work will be started soon.

A specially featured service for Father's Day was held in the Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at which there was a large attendance. The Rev. Walter White was in charge.

Work is under way on the building of the Howard Lynch residence on his slightly mountain road property. John Tombs, veteran member of the Traver Hollow bungalow colony and former Cornwall chief of police is in charge, being assisted by Charles Hesley and Robert York. The building, which was formerly an army mess hall, is being shipped to the job in sections from Camp Shelby, Miss., and might on the building was over $350.

The church yard was hand moved and cleaned up this week by several public spirited residents headed by Judge Raymond Bell. The recent repairing of the parsonage by Homer Markle, Jr., is another notable improvement. The ladies' aid is planning to hold its annual fair and supper on Wednesday, August 6.

James Burgher and Arist Johannsen each butchered several fatted over the winter pigs which have been frozen or processed for the summer boarder meat supply. Henry Paderman had as his guest his sister from the city last week.

Members of the Crutchen family are at the Broadhead farm for the summer season.

Robert Merrihew is driving a new Chevrolet.

Sunday afternoon Miss Allie Burgher entertained several Kingstonians including Mrs. Charles Chipp and party also a family group consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shader and her mother, Mrs. Emma Goigh, their daughter, Mrs. Donald Upley, Miss Eleanor Shader and their two-year-old grandson, Charles Ernest Upley.

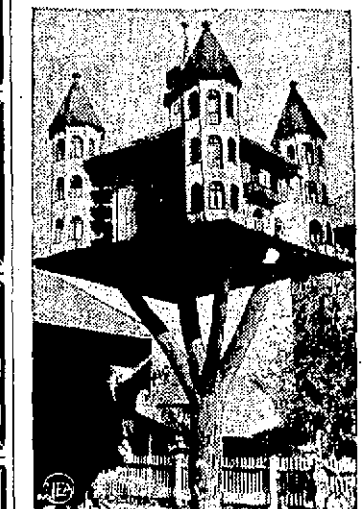

Mrs. Selma Hill is making her summer vacation home with Mr. and Mrs. James Burgher.

Miss Jennie Kerr has been ill but is improving. Her brother, Theodore Kerr is a patient at the Margaretville Hospital.

Several West Shokan friends attended the funeral services of Mrs. Clarence Beecher Saturday at the Corner Funeral Home in Kingston. Mrs. Beecher suffered a heart attack in Miami, Fla. Last year Mr. and Mrs. Beecher were here on a visit. Deceased, who before her marriage was Clara Constable, daughter of the late Abram and Mary Jane Constable, spent her girlhood here and attended the Mountain school at West Shokan Heights. Later she became a nurse and was employed by the late Dr. William Kemble. Her kindly personality and genial disposition won for her many friends. Burial was in Tongore Cemetery. Her husband, who survives, is a retired Wabash Railroad employee and is a 32nd degree Mason.

The Rev. Mr. Conklin, the new Olive Bridge minister, who spoke extemporaneously in the absence of the Rev. Martin Cady at the largely attended annual Old Fellows Memorial service held Sunday evening at the Olive Bridge church received high commendation and really won his way into the hearts of the congregation. Members of Shokan I.O.O.F. and Olive Rebekah Lodges attended in a body and the service was conducted in an impressive manner. The church was decorated with flowers and memorial bouquets were specially dedicated to the memory of I.O.O.F. past grands Martin Thompson and John W. Kelder.

Hopes to Break Record With Model T

Wonder what became of the model T? Well, Frank Hovevar of Chicago, Ill., is out to prove it's as dependable as ever. Here he is pictured with his 1927 model T Ford in New York City prior to his cross-country take-off in an attempt to break the record of 5 days, 2 hours, and 13 minutes set by Cannonball Baker in 1926. Hovevar plans only one stop during the trip to San Francisco.

The past years memorial scroll included the names of Frank Decker, Frank D. Manley and George Bishop. The church choir rendered special selections with Miss Lois Gray as organist and Mrs. Genevieve McLean sang a solo, "Under His Wings." As a special feature one of the new Rebekah members, Mrs. Sally Burke, sang two selections with her own guitar accompaniment. This annual memorial service had been held by Shokan Lodge, 491, over a long period of years and for the past 25 years the Olive Rebekah Lodge has participated.

Estella Kari accompanied by her brother and his wife from California were at her Dunrovin Farm over the week-end.

After a year's stay in Havana, Cuba, Mrs. Robert Longyear and children Gaye and Jeanne are scheduled to arrive Wednesday evening in New York after a five-hour flight by plane of the Venezuelan line. They expect to be home about a month and then go to Mexico City where Mr. Longyear is being transferred.

Hawaii is represented in Congress by one delegate, who has no vote.
